

FROM OUR POPE

In our reflections on the vices and virtues, we now consider acedia or sloth, which, although associated in English with laziness, is above all a deep spiritual apathy, manifested by discontent and aversion to attentive prayer and growth in our relationship with God. According to the monastic tradition, this “noonday devil” is best overcome by the patience of faith. This includes accepting the poverty or dark night of faith, which then enables us, by God’s grace, to sense the divine presence and to continue to reach out to God. The saints themselves show us that perseverance in time of temptation leads us to set practical goals, however small, for our daily life and moves us to lean on Jesus, who always remains with us.

UPCOMING ACTIVITIES

Lenten Groups: Looking for a way to make Lent especially meaningful this year? If you’re ready for a spiritual change (or merely an enhancement) join one of our Living the Eucharist Lenten groups. Part of the National Eucharistic Revival, this guided group program is designed to help us rethink (or think anew) what it means to live the Eucharist and be true disciple of Jesus. Seminarian Zach Turner is setting up the groups now. Check in with him to learn more and get involved. There is still time, but don’t delay. Email Zach at zturner@calnewman.org or catch him after the Masses this weekend.

Student Spring Retreat

Students! Join us for Newman Hall’s Spring 2024 Retreat: Into the Wilderness, Fri., Feb. 23 - Sun., Feb. 25th. This overnight retreat is an opportunity to disconnect from the busyness and stress of university life and engage in a weekend of prayer, contemplation, and fellowship away from Berkeley. Cost: $100 including lodging (in cabins!), meals, transportation, and activities.

Women in Conversation meets on Saturday, March 9th from 9:30 (coffee & social at 9 am) until noon. The program, Life-Giving Encounters with Anonymous Women, will focus on some of the nameless women who appear in the old and new testaments. Like many women of our own world, these women play life-giving roles that go unacknowledged and uncelebrated. Our study will focus upon a few of these unnamed biblical women whose stories may prompt us to notice and value their contemporary counterparts in our own communities. The program will be lead by Gina Hens-Piazza, Professor of Biblical Studies at the Jesuit School of Theology of Santa Clara University, author of seven books and a frequent lecturer nationally and internationally on topics of biblical justice, women and minor biblical characters. This program is for women only. Feel free to invite a friend. We look forward to seeing you. For more information, contact
